

Famous Family of Thread Makers Nears Extinction Through Deaths

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—The romantic career of the Coats family, the thread millionaires, has been running to its end with the death of no fewer than five members during the past two years. Each member has left a large fortune through which the British exchequer has been enriched by a total of some $6,000,000.
The death of James Coats in March, 1912, left a fortune of nearly $10,000,000 without any provisions for its disposition; six months later Archibald Coats passed away, leaving a sum of nearly $7,000,000; in January, 1913, Sir James Coats died, leaving nearly $9,000,000, and a few weeks later P. M. Coats, a son of Sir James, died, leaving $1,000,000. The fifth death, which was that of Peter Coats in September last, left another fortune of $12,000,000, making the total fortune of the deceased over $40,000,000. None of the Coats left anything to charity, but during their lifetime they had been generous givers.

WILL ESTABLISH HIS HOME IN THE SAGEBRUSH

NORTHERN MAN DECLARES THERE IS NO CLIMATE LIKE UNTO THAT OF NEVADA

M. B. Cutler, of Minneapolis, president of the Tonopah & Goldfield railroad, came in this morning from the southern end of the line, filled with optimism and appreciation of the opportunities of this section of the state.

"I am getting ready to become one of the recognized citizens of Nevada," was his first announcement as he stepped off the train and filled his lungs with the bracing air of the desert. "There is no place like the desert, you have the finest climate on earth and there can be no comparison with any other place on earth. It is too bad that the climate has been overlooked from a commercial standpoint, and I fear the people do not know the full value of this blessing. I have always considered myself a citizen of Nevada. Some day I am going to come here and live so that I may enjoy the benefits to their fullest depth."

"Tonopah is the most prosperous camp or town in the United States today and every day is bound to see it grow more prosperous and populous. The mines have the largest ledges and the most enduring formation that insures a continuity of development for the next 20 years, as far as we can see today. What may be accomplished in the next five years may set the record of life much ahead of the present outlook. Tonopah is at the beginning of its history and the mining engineers are beginning to understand the problems that have puzzled them for the last thirteen years. This means future development will be along lines with a minimum of risk and greater prospect of profit. I am glad to say Goldfield is coming back with a rush and will take its place as of old with other producers of Nevada before very long."

Queen Mary Will Carry An Umbrella Although She Has No Use for One

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—Rain or shine Queen Mary must have her umbrella, the habit being so confirmed that she often feels lost without it indoors. This peculiarity has become conspicuous through the recent incident at Norwich where the queen insisted upon carrying her umbrella through a museum whose rules forbid the taking of walking sticks or umbrellas into the picture galleries.

The Socialist papers seized upon the incident, and even in more conservative quarters the queen's conduct is questioned. The Daily Sketch asks why Queen Mary, "who is usually so willing to adapt herself to circumstances," would not temporarily dispense with her umbrella when she visited the Norwich museum. She was willing, the paper points out, to dispense with bouquets and red carpets, since she tried to keep her identity a secret, but the bishop of Norwich, who accompanied her, had to disclose her identity and walk through the museum "fully equipped for the possibility of the blowing off of the roof coinciding with a heavy shower."

Hazel Herdman was the mysterious woman the police detained with Manning. After she was released she committed suicide. Manning himself brought the girl to the hospital. Seeing her condition was critical she summoned her mother, who was present when death came. Miss Herdman's father said the girl associated with Manning for years, despite parental objections.
